

Maximize your operators time and your production output with D&K's latest addition to our accessory line-up. Utilizing the pre-loader will enable you to maximize your operators to full capacity. Simply put, your operators will be able to load the next scheduled job off-line while the existing job is running. When the existing job is finished, just roll away the empty tray and roll in the loaded tray.

Reduce your downtime
and increase your profits by adding
this D&K accessory to your line of equipment.
